FEATURES

OMD 24
 After 35 years of sonic experimentalism, Andy McCluskey can rightfully be described as a godfather of classic pop. He talks us through OMD's iconic records and their stunning new album, English Electric

CYNDI LAUPER 34
 Wrestling matches, hauntings and trailers covered in dog faeces... when it comes to making pop videos, the US singer has certainly had fun

POP ART: THE CLOTH 42
 When David Band passed away in 2011, he left behind a legacy of visionary artwork that graced the record sleeves of everyone from Altered Images to Spandau Ballet

ALISON MOYET 46
 Refusing to pander to record labels' demands for jazz standards, "Alf" has come out fighting with a new album of original material, the minutes.

BIRMINGHAM 50
 "England's second city" has been a hotbed of creativity for decades, with Duran Duran, Dexys Midnight Runners, Toyah Willcox and UB40 all emerging from the city to conquer the pop world

SOME BIZZARE 58
 Stevo is one of the true mavericks of the classic-pop era and his Some Bizzare label transformed the careers of Soft Cell and Blancmange. We talk to the major players

CLASSIC ALBUM: PURPLE RAIN 64
 In-fighting, trenchcoats and songs with no bassline... Prince And The Revolution's 1984 album/film Purple Rain had "gamble" written all over it. Luckily, it paid off and turned the Purple One into a major star

THE LOWDOWN 70
 As Eurythmics, Dave Stewart and cover star Annie Lennox took the pop world by storm in the Eighties and Nineties. We look back at their best (and worst) material

I REMEMBER: TOP TEN 80
 It's the week ending 9 June 1984, and Wham!, Deniece Williams and Ultravox are sitting pretty in the UK Top Three, with Duran Duran and Spandau Ballet not far behind

WHEN ROCK WENT POP 84
 From Paul McCartney to David Bowie, INXS to ZZ Top – some of rock's biggest stars have sold their soul to pop over the years. Here, we pay tribute to them for it
